

WEATHER for Kentucky
Thursday fair

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1917.

VOL. 39—No. 32

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Germany would no doubt hail with pleasure a railroad strike in America.

Even the girl babies can be named after Gen. Maude, the conqueror of Bagdad.

A drop in eggs from 40 cents to 20 cents a dozen helps some, if you are a buyer.

The moon is now all right and as soon as the ground will do, plant your potatoes.

According to the Aretomys Monax, winter will officially end and Spring begin next Saturday.

Gen. Hunter Liggett, aged 59, has been promoted to Major General to succeed Gen. Funston.

Cuban authorities have seized the property of Jose Miguel Gomez, revolutionary leader, valued at more than $1,000,000.

Former President Gomez, leader of the Cuban insurgents, has been captured and is awaiting trial. Four hundred American marines have landed at several points.

The Germans are about to retreat from the fortress of Bapaume, having abandoned the defensive system west of the town. The British are now within a mile and a half of their goal.

The Missouri Senate has passed the prohibition constitutional amendment to be voted on in 1918. The House and Senate are still at variance as to the time the measure shall become effective, if adopted.

China has severed diplomatic relations with Germany, seized all, about six, German ships at Shanghai; placed the crews ashore, put the seized ships under guard and handed the German minister his passports.

A strike on the eye of what may be a foreign war, would be little less than treason. The public is tired of bluffing. If it must come, let it come without further action by the sick President and let the railroads meet it in their own way.

A monument of "Buffalo Bill" Cody, on horseback, is to be erected on Lookout Mountain, Colorado, 2,000 feet higher than Denver, where the spectator can see into Colorado, Kansas, Wyoming and Nebraska, the four states the scout operated in.

The Owensboro Messenger is the first Kentucky paper that has undertaken a defense of Senator Stone's opposition to the President's program. It says the editor of the Lexington Herald ought to be sent to jail for a year for criminally libeling Stone.

President Wilson has made at least one unpopular move. Democratic leaders have heard much to their regret the President's order extending postmasters to civil service will include all such office holders, and examinations will be given for every office that becomes vacant.

The American steamship, Algonquin, was sunk by a German submarine Mar. 12. It was torpedoed without warning and after 20 shells fired at 4,000 yards failed to sink her, she was boarded and blown up with four bombs. The crew was saved, but the cargo of foodstuffs valued at $1,750,000 was lost. She left New York Feb. 20. The situation is unchanged until some armed ship clashes with a submarine.

The Democrats will fill their New York congressional vacancy by a special election April 12. The New Hampshire vacancy cannot be filled by April 16. The prospects are that the Democrats will have 215 votes and the Republicans 214 when the special session convenes. It will require 218 to elect a Speaker. The five so-called Independents holding the balance of power have been unable so far to agree on a concerted course, but they will meet again just before the beginning of the session.

PLAY GROUNDS
FOR CHILDREN

Provisions of the Will of the Late W. A. Wilgus Explained.

WILL PURCHASE A SITE

And Deed the Playgrounds to the City of Hopkinsville.

Following are the sections of the will of the late W. A. Wilgus bequeathing his estate to the city of Hopkinsville:

"Section 5. I bequeath all of my property whatsoever to the beloved city of Hopkinsville, Ky., for the sole and exclusive purpose of purchasing public playgrounds for the white children only of the said city of Hopkinsville, Ky.

"Section 6. I desire that all of my property shall be turned into one general fund and said amount shall be managed and expended for as many play grounds as a commission of three selected from the school board may in their judgment deem proper to purchase. These play grounds shall be decided by said commission selected by the chairman of school board to the city of Hopkinsville, forever."

According to the terms of the will the chairman of the school board, W. A. Long, is to name a commission of three "from the school board," who shall receive the property in the name of the city and purchase the play grounds, as many as they "deem proper" and deed them "to the city of Hopkinsville, forever." No provision is made for the maintenance of the play grounds, which become public grounds of the city, except that their use is limited to white children. The question of equipment is also in doubt, since it is not clear that any part of the money can be used for improving the grounds.

The one place in the city that possesses all of the requirements for a public play ground is along the river front. The city already owns both banks of the river north of Second street, with good sized lots on both sides of the stream. The land adjacent on both sides can be purchased and the grounds created into Edgewater Park five years ago could be enlarged and made into beautiful play grounds on both sides of the stream, with boating and bathing in the river when the floodgate of the dam is closed.

TWO DEATHS AT
W. S. HOSPITAL

Both Victims of Measles, Asthma Being Contributory In One Case.

Mrs. Bettie Mantloe, of Todd county, died at the Western State Hospital March 10 of measles, aged 70 years. She had been here one month. Interment at the asylum burying ground.

Mary M. Grey, a patient from Butler county, died Monday of Measles, asthma being contributory. She was 64 years old and was received here about four years ago. The interment took place near Morgantown.

To Seat 4,100.

Final plans for the proposed public auditorium, which will be of Renaissance design, with a seating capacity of 4,100, have been approved by the directors of the Louisville Auditorium Association. The building will cost approximately $255,000.

$50,000 Trunk Missing.

Boston, March 14.—A trunk containing jewelry valued at $50,000 and belonging to David Ullman, a jeweler of 80 Maiden Lane, New York, disappeared from the baggage room at South station today.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD
IN STATE CAMP HERE

Opened Tuesday With Formal Addresses of Welcome By Several Local Speakers and Responses By Congressmen Barkley, Kincheloe and Others.

SPECIAL DEGREE WORK PUT ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Congressman A. W. Barkley, of Paducah, Elected Head Consul and Owensboro Gets Next Head Camp Meeting.

The formal welcome of the state camp W. O. W. at the Tabernacle Tuesday morning was given in true Hopkinsville style. A big crowd was on hand and the following state officers were in their seats:

Head Consul, W. V. Gregory, of Mayfield, Ky.; head clerk, J. George Miller, of Louisville; head adviser, Dalton Vosier, of Paducah; head banker, E. R. Brown, of Princeton; head escort, W. P. Albritton, of Fulton; head watchman, Louis Iglehart, of Dawson Springs; head sentry, John Adlich, of Hardin; head managers, George Broadfoot, of Paducah; H. A. Willis, of Litchfield; E. A. Davis, of Highland Park; C. T. McCormick, of Cave Spring; S. W. Sellers, of Poole.

The public meeting was presided over by T. C. Underwood and prayer was offered by Dr. Lewis Powell. A song was sung and welcome addresses were made as follows:

For the city, Commissioner Frank H. Bassett; for the H. B. M. A., Ira D. Smith; for the W. O. W. of Hopkinsville and Christian county, Judge W. T. Fowler.

The W. O. W. quartette, composed of Oscar Wright, L. K. Wood, L. R. Bailey and Paul Twyman, sang, and were forced to respond to an encore.

The first response was by Hon. A. W. Barkley, the gifted Congressman from the First District.

A delightful violin solo was played by Miss Virgil Sellers. Mrs. Jessie A. Houston, of Calloway county, responded for the Women's Circle. Miss Nancy Boyd entertained the audience with a humorous reading.

Congressman David H. Kincheloe responded to the H. B. M. A. address in a characteristically eloquent speech. Miss Dora Alexander, of Omaha, supreme clerk, Women's Circle, next responded for the ladies.

Paul Twyman sang a beautiful solo and Rev. A. S. Anderson was the final speaker.

The regular business of the meeting was then taken up. The afternoon session was given over to reports, etc.

The annual report of Head Consul Gregory showed that on December 31, 1916, the order had a total membership of 804,291 and the amount of insurance carried was $1,073,966,500. This is an increase of 81,654 members and $103,837,800 in insurance since December 31, 1914. The total emergency fund on December 31 was $2,438,435.07.

For Kentucky the report showed total benefit certificates in force December 31, 1916, of 17,114 and the amount of insurance carried $20,680,700. Claims paid to January 31 were $265,056.30. Receipts for the beneficiary fund for 1916 were $369,472.31 and the emergency fund $49,262.97.

Secret work Tuesday night was put on by two lodges. The Uniform Rank of Madisonville was worked first and then the Hopkinsville camp gave an initiation. Both lodges did splendid work. About 500 members attended this session.

Wednesday morning the State Camp met at the Tabernacle and the election of officers was the chief feature. The following officers were chosen:

Head Consul—Hon. Alben W. Barkley, Congressman from the First District.

Head Adviser—H. W. Nichols, of Princeton.

Head Clerk—Geo. Miller, Louisville.

Head Banker—C. O. Harris, Hopkins county.

Head Escort—Greeley Ford, Calloway county.

Head Sentry—W. L. Travis, Marshall county.

Head Managers—Dr. E. H. Gardner, Carlisle county; J. C. Bell, Daviess county; Shelby Dunn, Hancock county; A. G. Coghill, McCracken county; O. R. Marlow, Cadiz.

Delegates—L. D. Green, Louisville; Archie Higgins, Hopkinsville.

Alternates—A. A. Nelson and Geo. Weathers.

Owensboro, Ashland and Dawson were nominated for the 1919 meeting and Owensboro was selected.

An afternoon session was held for winding up the routine business, receiving reports and adopting resolutions, at the conclusion of which the session adjourned.

The Women's Circle also held two sessions yesterday behind closed doors.

APRIL 25

Judge Knight Sets the Date For the Election At Pembroke.

The petition filed by the anti-prohibitionists, has been acted upon by Judge Knight and an election called in the two Pembroke districts for April 25. The district has been dry for the last six years.

Twenty-five Brought Down.

The French have recaptured positions previously taken by the Germans on ridge 185 and the British entered German trenches north of Peronne. Berlin reports the destruction of sixteen Entente airplanes, while London announces that nine German machines were brought down.

Labor Loyal.

Organized labor in America, through its representatives in conference at Washington, offered its services to the country in every field of activity if the United States should be drawn into war.

CLOSING ON BAPAUME

Germans Again Driven Back On A Three Mile Front.

NO REST FOR THE TURKS

British Make Another Advance Directed Against Bapaume.

Further notable gains have been made by the British forces against the Germans in the operations which have as their object the capture of Bapaume and a general bending back of the German line eastward in the Somme and Ancre regions of France.

According to the British war office communication, under terrific bombardments the Germans have abandoned their main defensive system west of Bapaume on a front of three and one half miles to a depth of a mile.

North of the Ancre the left wing of the British in this particular operation has bent back the German line on a front of about a mile east and northeast of Gommecourt and somewhat straightened out the curve extending from Eszarts-les-Bucquoy to the region northeast of Puisieuz au Mont.

To the north of this region, in the vicinity of Armentieres, Souchez and Neuville-St Vaast and southwest of Neuve Chapelle, the Germans threw forward raiding parties but all of these met with repulse, according to London, except in the last named sector, where the Germans reached the British trenches and made prisoner some of the occupants.

Elsewhere on the line in France there have been only artillery engagements which were especially severe in Champagne on the sectors of Maisons de Champagne, and Maucages, and at various points on both sides of the Meuse in the region of Verdun.

The Turks evidently are being given no rest by the British operating against them north of Bagdad along the Tigris river. After the capture of Bagdad Sunday, the British cavalry kept on the heels of the retreating Turks and occupied the town of Hazimam, five miles to the North, taking more than 100 prisoners. Gunboats are proceeding up the river in pursuit of the Turks.

WALKOUT FOR SATURDAY

Complete Plans of Brotherhoods for Nation-Wide Railroad Strike.

DECISION UP TO OFFICIALS

Order Already Issued Will Become Effective If Old Demands Are Not Granted.

Washington, Mar. 14.—Complete plans of the four railroad brotherhoods for a nationwide strike to be inaugurated next Saturday evening unless the railroads grant their eight hour day demands were ratified here today by local union leaders from southeastern territory and by a similar conference of representatives of the southwest held at St. Louis.

OLD DEMANDS STAND

The brotherhood heads will tell the railroad conference committee in New York Thursday that if an agreement is not reached this week for the establishment of an eight hour basic day with time and a half for overtime, strike orders already issued to local organizations will become effective. The demands are just what they were last fall when President Wilson averted a strike after the call was out by inducing congress to pass the Adamson law, which never has been put into effect, pending a decision on its constitutionality by the supreme court.

There is every indication that the president is prepared to move again if it becomes apparent that the nation, facing the gravest international crisis of its history, is about to have its transportation facilities paralyzed.

PRESIDENT HEARS REPORTS

Although still confined to his bed with a cold, the president heard reports from Secretary Wilson on the plans of the brotherhoods. There was no statement as to what action he was contemplating, but it was understood to be probable that his first step may be an appeal to the employers and employees to reach an agreement as a patriotic duty.

It became known during the day that on March 7 the brotherhood chiefs wrote to the president, advising him of the meeting to be held with the railroad committee March 13, and assuring him that if the country should become involved in war they would co-operate with the government in every possible way.

The southeastern union officials were told by the brotherhood chiefs that the strike orders had been arranged so as to have the walkout begin on a certain group of roads, at 7 p. m. (Eastern standard time) Saturday, but gradually extended to all roads in the country by next Wednesday.

PROGRESSIVE SYSTEM ADOPTED

Each twenty-four hours until Wednesday a new group would be affected. This progressive system, the union men say, was adopted to avoid paralyzing traffic suddenly throughout the entire country and to give railroads a chance to stop the strike's spread by meeting the union demands if they wish.

Woman Kills Father.

Louisville, March 14.—News reached here that Mrs. Goldie Reil, 30, shot and killed her father, George Washburn, 53, at their home near Goshen, Oldham county late Sunday. After the woman told the authorities that Washburn had abused the family and was advancing on her in a menacing manner, when she seized a shot gun and fired, she was released on a $50 bond.

too ill to travel.

Lieut. Flack, who has been suffering from a huge corbuncle on his left temple for many weeks, is now almost well. The rest of the returned soldiers from Col. Henry down are in fine physical condition and all are delighted to be home again.

The conquest of Turkey marks the beginning of the end.

The Chinese Senate by a vote of 152 to 37 passed a resolution to break with Germany.

Attorney A. C. Dulaney, of Bowling Green, drops into a $5,000 soft snap as Registrar and Attorney for the Louisville Farm Loan Bank.

Both Congressional vacancies will be filled before April 16. The election in New York will be April 12 and the one in New Hampshire a day or two later.

Gov. Johnson, of California, announces that he will resign as Governor March 15, and take the seat in the senate to which he was elected last year.

Ambassador Jas W. Gerard returning from Germany reached "third base" at Key West Monday and started on his "home run" by rail. He is traveling with a closely sealed mouth.

Mrs. Eugene Merz, received a costly wedding anniversary present.
When opened it was found to contain twenty-five Irish potatoes, each wrapped in a $1 bill. The peck was worth $26.

Germany claims to be increasing their number of submarines faster than losses are sustained and further claims that reports of large numbers of submarines destroyed are greatly exaggerated.

When Capt. Cherry's train pulled into Nashville the other day, he found lying on the back platform a big bone with a ribbon tied to it and a card attached reading "Capt. Cherry's Bone Dry Special."

A boat load of 100 Belgians recently ran the German gauntlet on the river Meuse, and after an exciting night trip to the accompaniment of machine gun fire landed on Dutch soil at Eysden, which town the fugitives entered in a body singing the Marseillaise.

Navy recruiting continues to show a great increase. For the first eight days in March the net gain was 716 men. Many of the recruits are coming from districts where the Navy League is actively co-operating with the department. On March 1 there were 59,037 enlisted men in the navy and on March 8, 59,753. There are still needed for mobilization, including regulars and reserves, 102,295.

INDIANS HOLDING THEIR OWN

Remarkable Change Effected in Race Within the Memory of Men Who Are Not Old.

Not such a great while ago, people who lived on the far side of the Missouri river read the works of Cooper as humor. He gave the Indian an air of dignity, a high standing for honor, even an aspect of industry.
Trans-Missouri settlers knew Indians. They came in contact with them. Cooper's concept seemed so different from reality that, with no effort at all, the reader could make himself believe he was reading satire.

Now of all the changes which time has wrought in the plains and mountain country none is more marvelous than the alteration of opinion on the subject of Indians. The aborigines have actually come into a new world as regards the white men's attitude toward them. It is no longer considered a worthy simile to speak of the town loafer as being "as lazy as an Indian." It is no longer the right and proper thing, to be encouraged by the best citizens, to skin Indians at barter, to reduce them to a nakedness by trickery. Today, it is a crime to kill an Indian. There are men who have not yet reached the stage of grandparentage who remember when the slaughter of Indians was a virtue.

This great transformation has been brought about by the Indians themselves. They have bettered their living conditions. They have acquired education. Thirty per cent of all the Indians in the country talk the English language. Even more of them wear the white man's clothes.
As property owners, they are to be envied. As workers in the field, railroad laborers, storekeepers, officeholders, lawyers and capitalists, they hold their own.—Toledo Blade.

HE TOOK THE WRONG DOG.

A story is being told on Jim Allen, road superintendent living in Greencastle, that shows him to be a poor judge of good dogs. A friend in a city had a bird dog and a bull pup. Mr. Allen wished to borrow the bird dog for a day's hunt. He went to his friend's home when he was away and helped himself to the dog which he thought was the bird dog. He hunted all day, but found no birds. The dog refused to leave his heels and when he returned the friend was greatly relieved, because he thought someone had stolen his prize bulldog pup. But it proved, however, that Allen only made a mistake and took the wrong dog.—Indianapolis News.

OLD PICTURE CHANGES HANDS

Believed to Have Been Painted About 1450 by Celebrated Holland Artist.

When Christopher Columbus was dallying at the court of Ferdinand and Isabella, it is quite likely that he inspected and admired a painting that changed hands in New York a short time ago.

It is another of Roger van der Weyden's little masterpieces. A singular coincidence about its sale is that the price was $150,000, the same as that received by Sir Edgar Speyer, as announced, for the portrait lent
by him to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The purchaser in the latest transaction is Michael Dreier. "Christ Appearing to Mary," is the subject of the picture. The virgin is seated in an ornamental doorway. Her face expresses poignant sorrow and pity as her son, arisen from the tomb, appears before her. The valley of Gethsemane, with a glimpse of his resurrection, is seen beyond a shadowed courtyard. Scenes from the life of Christ are depicted sculptural-ly on the archway surrounding the principal figures.

The picture was painted about 1450, when the painter went to Rome as the guest of the pope. It is known to have belonged to Queen Isabella of Spain at the time when she pawned her jewels to equip Columbus for his voyage of discovery.

JIMMIE BROUGHT UP PUSSY

Marooned on Rock, Boy Effected a Rescue That Was Both Novel and Brave.

As Mayor Amos Radcliffe of Paterson, N. J., was crossing the West street bridge he heard a shout from a group of youngsters. They had discovered a cat marooned on a rock just under the arch of the bridge.
The mayor stopped and the boys discussed methods of rescue.

Twine and a peach basket were obtained. The basket was lowered to the rock, with shouted invitations for kitty to take the elevator. But kitty did not trust strange boys. A long pole was obtained, and the lads tried to force a rescue by pushing kitty into their life-net.

They succeeded in pushing her into the rim. It was then that Jimmie came to the front. He got a rope and, tying it about his waist, ordered the other boys to lower him to the rock. While Jimmie was swinging helplessly in circles, with his head below his heels, the cat regained the rock. There was still hope. As the squirring Jimmie was lowered close to her, the cat leaped upward and landed on the seat of Jimmie's trousers, into which she sank her claws.

The crowd yelled again and the boys on the bridge hauled in their line. Jimmie and kitty were landed safely on the bridge.

EFFECT OF PASSPORT REGU-LATIONS.

One of the effects of the enforcement by the United States of more stringent passport regulations, is that there are no further extradition cases of Americans from England.

During many years before the war there were a substantial number of such cases, so many that dealing with them constituted an important division of the work of officials at the embassy. So well have the new regulations governing the issuing of passports served the cause of justice that during the current year there has not been a single case of an American criminal or suspect being arraigned at Bow street police court for extradition.

BEYOND HER REACH.

It was at a concert in the village schoolhouse. The budding soprano before she began to sing apologized for her cold. Then she started:

"I'll hang my harp on a willow tree—a-hum—on a willow tree—e—O—" Her voice broke on the high note each time. Then a voice came from the back of the hall:

"Say, Liz, you'd better hang it on a lower branch."

CAN'T AVOID THEM.

"Don't you find it hard these times to meet expenses?"

"Hard? Man alive, I meet expenses at every turn!"

CONDITIONALLY.

He—"Do you believe in love at first sight?" She—"Oh, yes, if the site's big enough to build a nice cottage on."

EXPECT TO CONTROL GROWTH

Discovery Made by University of California Professor May Mean Much to Human Race.

Announcement has been made at the University of California that Dr. T. B. R. Robertson, professor of biochemistry, has succeeded in extracting from the anterior lobe of the pituitary gland a substance which he calls tethelin. This extract is said to have marked control on the growth of animal bodies.

Doctor Robertson said that his experiments covered a period of four years and added:

"It is too early to attempt to calculate the importance of the discovery. Many experiments have been conducted upon animals, and while there are indications that the human body may respond in the same way to the same experiments, that has not been determined.

"At certain stages in the development of animal life the addition of tethelin to the tissue will stimulate growth and at other stages will have no effect whatever. An increase in height for the human body necessarily would require bone growth, which ability to accelerate may not be existent in tethelin.

"The effect of the substance upon cancer is well established at this time. The experiments will be continued, and further developments may be expected, as the isolation of the substance will render it easily obtainable by the scientists of the world."

MAY DO AWAY WITH LIGHTS

Possible That Some Time in the Future Ships Will Get Theirs From the Wireless.

The French government is about to establish a system of what mariners call blind lighthouses. This revolution in maritime signaling consists in the use of Hertzian waves, and it is believed it will prove of far more lasting value than lights, since it is equally effective in foggy weather, when the usual lights cannot be seen. Indeed, some experts look forward to the gradual extinction of coast lights and expect that ships will soon get their bearings from the ticking of wireless receivers. The great difficulty to be overcome is that of establishing direction, enabling a navigator to determine accurately from which particular station the message comes. It is stated that a practicable scheme has now been formulated. The French lighthouse authorities will shortly make experimental trials at certain stations in the channel.—New York Sun.

A Denver lawyer tells of a man arrested in that town on a serious charge to whom was assigned a bad lawyer. The crude appearance of the man detained to defend him distressed the prisoner.

"Yes."

"If he should die, could I have another lawyer?"

"Yes."

"Then, your honor, I request the privilege of seeing him in the back room for a few minutes."—Exchange.

Every One Is a Step to Success.

INSTINCT AND EXPERIENCE.

Sometimes a Noble Failure Serves the World as Faithfully as a Distinguished Success—Lack of Capital and Patronage—Farmers Frequently Fail. He Who Makes No Effort Expects.

[Copyrighted, 1914, by Thomas J. Sullivan.]
He only is exempt from failure who makes no effort.

In the lexicon of youth, which fate reserves for a bright manhood, there is no such word as fail—it comes later to life.

There are so many reasons which can logically and truthfully be advanced as causes contributing to the numerous failures that I will endeavor to analyze only the principal ones—the business failures.

Every failure is a step to success; every detection of what is false directs us to what is true; every trial exhausts some tempting form of error. Not only so, but scarcely any attempt is entirely a failure; scarcely any theory, the result of steady thought, is altogether false. No tempting form of error is without some latent charm derived from truth.

Failure is, in a sense, the highway to accomplishment. Inasmuch as every discovery of what is false leads us to seek earnestly after what is true, and every fresh experience points out some form of error which we shall afterward carefully avoid.

In this article we have not the space to treat of individual cases or their many causes, but will deal altogether with the commercial side of the question—the business failures.

Perhaps the most general and common cause is lack of capital. Many men venture into business with just enough money to "swing" the enterprise for a month, at the end of which time they expect the new business to be self supporting. It seldom is, and as the concern becomes a financial cripple the inevitable is sure to happen—failure.

Business Instinct Required.
It may be said in passing that combined with the first form of failure there are two others, lack of business instinct and business experience.

these three are frequently augmented by another equally dangerous in business, and that is engaging in a business of which you have no knowledge or experience in. No man can hope to succeed in any line of business where his principal qualifications are assets and ignorance.

But without question the most pronounced cause of business failure in any line or in any community is that of lack of patronage. No business concern, professional man, church or school can long endure without patronage. Heaven's eternal wisdom has decreed that man should ever stand in need of man.

The beautiful must ever rest in the arms of the sublime. The gentle need the strong to sustain them, as much as rock flowers need rocks to grow on or the ivy the rugged wall which it embraces. Patronage is the sustenance of business, and without it failure follows just as surely as death follows the rock flower and the ivy when their support is withdrawn.

Farmers Frequently Fail.

Listed among the business men who frequently fail is the farmer, the greatest producer of us all. He fails for the same reason as do some of our other business men—because of ignorance. Many of these men have been born and reared as farmers and imagine that is all the qualification necessary to follow that vocation. It is not. Technical education, constant study of conditions elsewhere and a full realization of the necessity of fertilization of his farm constitute the first principles of the successful farmer.

Few farmers have not been obliged to avail themselves of the local merchant's willingness to extend credit, and now that the local merchant is facing a graver calamity and a greater pest than ever a farmer was obliged to meet in the retail catalogue houses' methods of doing business would it not be right and fair for the farmer and every resident of the community to rally to the aid of the man who rallied to their aid in days gone by with a willingness only equaled by his confidence in his customer and his loyalty to his community?

When a farmer fails the whole community suffers, and the man who must bear the brunt of the burden is the local merchant. His capital is invested and his hope of return rests with the farmer's ability to produce. If a blight, a drought, a cyclone or pest bags destroy the crops the merchant must make the best of it and "carry" the farmer for another season or until he has a good crop.

Loyalty is the greatest virtue that man is endowed with, and the practice of it now by residents of small cities and towns in favor of the local merchant whose business is endangered by the retail catalogue trade would be a display of generosity manifested only by men and communities where the practice of the Golden Rule obtains.

What To Do When Baby Has The Croup

Pennsylvania Mother Advises Use of "External" Treatment—VapoRub.

What to do when baby has the croup is a serious matter in every home. In the South the universal treatment is a good rub over the throat and chest with Vick's VapoRub Salve. The body warmth releases the ingredients in the form of vapors that, inhaled with each breath, quickly relieve the breathing. In addition, Vick's is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, relaxing the nervous tension and taking away the tightness and soreness.

Last winter Mrs. W. M. Rosenberg, 122 W. Broad St., Souderton, Pa., tried Vick's VapoRub for the first time, and writes—

"I have used Vick's VapoRub on my baby when he has had croup and colds in his throat and chest, and it has helped him wonderfully. I think it is the best thing of its kind I have ever used, and always want some in the house."

In addition to croup and colds, Vick's will be found useful in a hundred ways in the home as a salve for burns, bruises, itching, etc. Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00.

WALTER B. MEILLER

Walter B. Meiller, of Huntington, W. Va., professional walker and holder of the world mark for a five mile race, arrived in the city Tuesday on foot from Nortonville. He was in Lexington last week and walked a mile at the skating rink in six minutes and 20 seconds, in a contest with Melvin Peel, who was on skates. The previous time of 6:25 was held by George Goulding in New Brunswick, N. J., in 1917. Peel made two miles while Meiller walked one, making the distance in 6:10, a few seconds ahead of the walking champion.

Mr. Meiller will give an exhibition here if the matter can be arranged, while he is resting up a few days.

The young man is 34 years of age and has been a professional pedestrian for less than three years. He is now crossing the continent on foot, having left Huntington Jan. 29, for San Francisco, Calif.

FAIRVIEW SCHOOL

Leads the Honor Roll and Paducah Stands Next.

The young people all over Western Kentucky are taking an interest in the Davis Monument to be erected soon at Fairview. Mrs. P. E. West is asking every school in Western Kentucky to take the little obelisk banks and fill them. The Davis Memorial association will furnish as many as may be needed by schools free of all charges. It is earnestly desired that the parents and teachers may inspire the school boys and girls with the patriotism and civic pride that should be the rightful possession of every well born youth of the South. If the young people help to build this great obelisk, they may some day point to it with lasting pride and tell their children of their great part in it. Fairview school has, up to the present time, asked for more banks than any other school in Western Kentucky. Honors, enviable honors, will be striven for. Let all the young people get busy. Fairview is going to be hard to beat. The Honor Roll for schools will be printed from time to time. Paducah stands next to Fairview today.

Nephew Claims $25,000.

Louis G. Castleman, nephew of Mrs. Fannie Castleman Eastin, whose $25,000 to Cave Hill Cemetery was refused by the City of Louisville because of its conditions, is claiming the entire $25,000. His aunt left him the "residue" of her estate and it is claimed that the unused bequest is a part of the residue.

MILLINERY OPENINGS

Were The Order of The Day Yesterday at Several Stores.

SPECIAL AT FRANKEL'S

Anderson, Edwards and Miss Rogers all Had Pretty Fashions Displayed.

The Spring season was formally opened yesterday at all of millinery stores, except Miss Blumenstiel's, where the opening was last week.

At Frankel's Busy Store there were living models who gave demonstrations both in the forenoon and afternoon, large crowds being on hand to see the beautiful new styles. The opening display occupied the entire upper floor and the elevator was kept busy. These annual openings with this house have been events of the greatest interest to the ladies.

The J. T. Edwards store also had on exhibition the finest display of ladies ready-to-wear goods they have ever presented. This house is rapidly becoming one of the most popular trading places in the city with the ladies and Mr. Edwards has excelled himself this season in selecting his goods.

The J. H. Anderson Co., laid particular stress on the millinery opening. The newest and best things in spring fashions were presented and they were the admiration of all. The stock of coat suits, coats, dresses, evening gowns, silks, trimmings and materials is more complete this year than ever before. The "Japanese booth" was the center of interest.

Miss Fannie Rogers at 210 South Main, gave the ladies the first opportunity to see the many beautiful things in millinery that her stock comprises this season. Crowds thronged her store all day, the weather being ideal and everything contributing to the success of the openings.

EGG CIRCLE IS FORMED

Mrs. G. H. Stowe Is Elected President and First Ship-ment Next Wednesday.

Pursuant to the call of Prof. D. D. Slade, about 30 ladies and a few men met at H. B. M. A. rooms yesterday morning and after a discussion in which Mr. Slade explained the purposes of the organization, an Egg Circle was organized with the following members:

Mrs. G. H. Stowe, President.
Mrs. R. K. McClendon, Director.
Rev. F. M. Wilson, Director.
W. F. McReynolds, Director.
Mrs. E. M. Owen.
" J. R. White.
" V. M. Acree.
" S. C. Adair.
" Frank Clark.
" E. H. Reynolds.
" John McGee.
Miss Carrie Baker.

The organization will ship from Hopkinsville every Wednesday and Saturday, beginning next Wednesday. Shipments are made to wholesale markets by express, the cost of shipping a crate of 30 dozen eggs being 97c to Cleveland, O., $1.14 to New York and $1.20 to Boston, all regarded as fine markets for graded and guaranteed first quality eggs, shipped the week in which they were gathered.

A receiving place will be provided and two members will be on hand each shipping day to grade and pack the eggs. All dirty or misshapen eggs or those weighing less than two ounces will be discarded as seconds, also any with stains or evidences of having been washed. Eggs may be fertile until May 15, but after that date all male birds must be removed from flocks from which sales are made. The eggs must be guaranteed infertile after May 15th. They are to be classified into three colors, white, light brown and dark brown. Some houses handle only whites, others receive both colors, but white eggs as a rule are higher priced.

Dr. Slade said circles were in successful operation at Guthrie and other

OVERALLS FACTORY

Has Its Eyes On Hopkinsville and Means Business.

MUST FIND NEW LOCATION

Has Outgrown Its Quarters At Lewisburg and Must Increase Capacity.

Messrs. Yates, Browning and Browning, three representatives of the "Buck Brand Overalls Co." located at Lewisburg, Ky., spent Tuesday in the city prospecting for a new location. Their plant has outgrown its present quarters and is over-run with orders it cannot fill. Labor in the little town of Lewisburg is hard to get and the company is compelled to seek a larger field. It now works 60 hands, mostly women seamstresses.

Mr. Jas. Yates is President of the company, and he in company with the other gentlemen is visiting Hopkinsville, Henderson, Bowling Green and Owensboro. They were shown around Tuesday afternoon by a committee of business men and at night a rousing meeting was held at the H. B. M. A. President Davis presided and a number of speeches were made by Messrs. J. T. Wall, Nat Gaither, Frank H. Bassett, S. L. Cowherd, C. R. Clark, Chas. M. Meacham and others. Mr. Yates was a fine talker himself and freely discussed his plans and gave information when called upon.

The company expects to secure good quarters at low rent, a satisfactory power rate, water as cheap as possible and exemption from taxes for five years. All of these things were promised and the visitors appeared much pleased with their reception and with the live meeting they found themselves a part of.

They were in Henderson yesterday. A decision will be reached by next week.

LAYTONSVILLE.

The Apron party at Mr. Everett Forbes', Friday night was greatly enjoyed by everyone present. Mr. Felix McGinnis, won first prize for hemming an apron best, and Mr. Oscar Worsham won second.

Mr. E. E. Henderson, was in Hopkinsville Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Beelar Henderson and Misses Lucile and Elin Henderson were guests of Mrs. Fannie Dulin Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Sam Saunders, who has been quite sick for several days, is some better, we are glad to report.

Mrs. Ollie Dollins, who has been quite sick for several weeks, was taken to the Jennie Stuart Hospital Sunday morning where she underwent an operation Monday.

Mr. E. E. Henderson and mother were called to the bedside of her brother, Mr. Joe Dulin, at Fruit Hill, Sunday, Mr. Dulin is expected to live but a short while.

Misses Amy and Lillian Dew, of Hopkinsville, were guests of Mrs. Mack Dulin Sunday.

Mrs. Beelar Henderson, and Miss Lucile Henderson were guests of Miss Arvo Brown Monday afternoon.

Wood Alcohol.

Pure wood alcohol is the only substance which can be converted commercially into formaldehyde, which is universally used for disinfection against such contagious diseases as smallpox, scarlet fever and tuberculosis. The experts at the Forest Products laboratory have conducted extensive experiments on the production of grain or ethyl alcohol from wood and have been successful in experimental work in raising the yield and lowering the cost of production.

places and the circle eggs bring from 2 to 6 cents more than the market prices. Payments are made upon receipt of the semi-weekly shipments. The members pay $1 on joining and a cent per dozen is the fee for handling the eggs and this accumulates a fund from which the initial fees are refunded. It is necessary to have a little money for buying crates, paying postage, etc., hence the small commission. Many other ladies express an intention to join later.

Shake Off That Grip

When Spring comes, with its changeable weather and your exposure, it is best to clear away all the symptoms left after an attack of grip. That evil disease leaves you weakened, and when its victim attempts to "do his bit" he exposes himself to the risk of a second attack, for which he is less prepared, and which may have graver consequences.

There's Danger in Delay

April and May are pneumonia months. In this time a weakened system is a constant source of danger, for the pneumonia and grip infections are in the air, and after a long winter the body is so clogged with waste it cannot resist them. Fortify the health, remove the catarrh, and improve the digestion.

For Quick Relief PERUNA

This reliable tonic is recommended to remove the waste from the body, counteract the catarrhal poisons and allay the inflammation that is catarrh, restore the regular appetite and tone up the entire system to resist disease. A well man is safe.

As a tonic after grip it has won many commendations, while its effectiveness in catarrhal conditions is unquestioned. Take no chances—Take Peruna.

Peruna Tablets are always ready to take. You may carry a box with you and ward off colds and chills. The liquid medicine in your home is a great safeguard. Protect your family.

Defining the Heart.

The human heart, always a mystery, has become the subject of further speculation, since a Supreme court justice decided that "nobody can plumb its depths." It has been described as broad and hollow, and the jurist says, in effect, that it is bottomless. One is almost driven to the conclusion that, as was the world before the first heat began to beat, it is "without form and void."

CHICKEN ORDINANCE

To Be Enforced This Year, Says Chief Roper.

Orders have been issued for the enforcement of the "chicken ordinance" this year, which has been a dead letter for several seasons. The gardening fever has struck everybody this spring, as a means of lowering the high cost of living and many vacant lots will be cultivated by school children and others. Chickens are a nuisance in some parts of town and Chief of Police Roper will see that owners keep fowls on their own premises this year. The ordinance imposes a fine upon those who let their fowls annoy other people.

CAYCE WILL SUSTAINED

Jury Took the Case Yesterday and Brought in a Speedy Verdict.

In Circuit court yesterday, the court gave the Cayce will case to the jury, argument having been concluded the night before, and after being out a short while, a verdict was brought in sustaining the will. The sons of Jas. M. Cayce, J. W. and E. C. Cayce, sued to break the will, which disposed of an estate of $40,000.

LOCAL MEN AS DEALERS

Realize Great Possibilities in Automobile Field of Thriving Community.

Recognition of Hopkinsville as a thriving community that gives promise of big opportunities in the automobile field, has led Dodge Brothers to establish representation here with Duffer-Cox Motor Co. as the newly appointed dealers. The Duffer-Cox Co. has just been notified that they now have the exclusive selling rights in this territory.

The remarkable popularity of the Dodge Brothers' car has caused automobile men all over the country to clamor for the sales privileges, but the Dodge Brothers' policy of quality in selling methods as well as quality in car, requires a painstaking investigation in every instance before a selection is made. In the Duffer-Cox Motor Co. Dodge Brothers have a firm on whom they believe they may rely for both fairness and activity.

Particular attention has been focused on the Dodge Brothers' car, both the roadster and touring type, during the U. S. army's activities along the Mexican border. It is said fully 200 cars were being used by officers and men during the border patrol and punitive expedition. Gen. Pershing adopted the car for his personal use and directed his entire staff to do likewise. His reason lay solely in the fact that the Dodge Brothers' car had proved itself dependable under any conditions. Numerous instances are on record where Dodge Brothers' motor cars were responsible for the saving of lives, both civilians and soldiers.

Other feats of the year 1916 that attracted nation-wide attention included the trip through Death Valley by O. K. Parker, of Los Angeles, in a Dodge Brothers' touring car. Despite the tremendous difficulties encountered throughout the entire trip, the car emerged without a mechanical break. The same car later descended to the bottom of Grand Canyon, an amazing journey over rocks and mountain streams into a gorge more than one mile deep. The "Death Valley Dodge" is an ordinary car, no different from any others turned out at the factory and its wonderful accomplishments are but another testimonial to the stability of the Dodge Brothers' car in general.

Dodge Brothers' plant in Detroit now covers 69 acres of floor space and buildings are being added constantly. This, despite the fact that the manufacture of motor cars began less than two years ago. More than $100,000,000 worth of cars already have been put on the market and the factory has been wholly unable to turn them out rapidly enough to supply the demand, despite the incessant expansion of facilities.

REBELLION

By SUSAN E. CLAGETT.

"You rail against convention," the man at the wheel said, "but you have not told me what you would offer in its place. There is no need for you to go into the byways and hedges in search of the creature man. I can name four who would deem it a privilege to spend the rest of their lives in your company and I know that you have sent them to the corners of the earth. Ralston is in Japan, Howard and Lawrence are driving ambulances in France, Chapman is with Pershing in Mexico. Why did you do it?"

Sophia Isham looked at her companion with somber eyes. She could not smile, although the note of amusement in his voice would have been contagious if the subject of their talk had not been a vital one to her.

"If I tell you that not one of them has asked me to marry him, would you believe me?"

"Certainly not!" His reply was emphatic.

"So I supposed. Neither will you believe me when I tell you that I have never been asked in marriage, humiliating as is the admission. But it is true, nevertheless. Men find in me a pleasant companion, a good comrade. I am their confidant, but our friendship has never crossed the dividing line between pleasant friendship and the deeper feeling. That I cannot arouse admiration, love, has cut deep.

"That fact is burned into my consciousness and I resent the attitude of the world toward the woman who would strive for her happiness by seeking it for herself. It is a man-made world, with man-made customs and, perforce, she who finds no favor in his sight must bow to the inevitable and accept the fate thrust upon her. Convention forbids the least little step across the boundary of his domain, even though she may see happiness beckoning to her from the farthest corner. Why should she be looked upon askance if she venture over that line of demarcation?"

"Well, what are you going to do about it?" he asked with evident amusement as he brought the car to a standstill to allow a heavily loaded wagon to pass on the narrow road. "What would you suggest that will take the place of the old-established order of things? You are so essentially feminine that I cannot imagine you taking the initiative in such matters."

"Why not?" she retorted with passionate warmth. "Because I am passed by must I forever give up the thought of love, of companionship, the feel of a warm little body within my arms? Or, if not passed by, must I take what is offered when, unoffered, there is a better which might be mine if I could but overcome the reluctance, entailed by convention and my womanhood, to ask for it?"

"There is a possibility, you know, that you may meet with a rebuff. Have you thought of that?"

She drew in her breath sharply. "I have a right to happiness," she answered stubbornly. "If it will not come in the accepted way I will fight for it. It will be hard, but I must."

Until now he had not taken her seriously, but there was a strain in her face, in her figure, in her clasped hands that made him feel her earnestness. He had known her for many years, had been a constant visitor in her home and thought he knew her every whim and caprice, but this intensity, underlying her usual cool friendliness, took him unawares. He was frankly uncomfortable.

"You told me there were four," she said presently, breaking the silence that had fallen between them. "They were not lovers, but if they had been my choice would not have been made from among them. They were good dancers, perfect escorts, desirable as comrades, but nothing more."

"How can you say that when you know what they are doing?" he asked gravely. "Do weaklings go to the battlefield?"

"No. But there was a lack hard to explain. What they are doing will develop traits that would have forever lain dormant but for the horrors of this awful war. But when they left they were not the men to whom I would give my heart's blood and think nothing of the giving." She turned to him suddenly. "What is your definition of a man?"

He looked at her thoughtfully. "About the same as yours, I think. Force, integrity, honesty of purpose, gentleness, consideration for others, a carrying out of the right as he sees it no matter at what cost to himself."

She nodded. "That is what I want," she said tensely. "a man, not the pretense of one."

"You have found such a one?"

"Yes."

"You have told him that you care?"

"Not yet, but I will, I must." The answer came haltingly. "I—I—oh! Don't you know?" She threw out her hands with a little despairing gesture. "I think I will die of shame, but don't you know that it is you?" She ended in a whisper.

For an instant the silence was profound. Then he laughed, a full-throated laugh, in which there was no sting, for he had caught her two hands within his own and raised first one and then the other to his lips.

OPINION IN POSTELL CASE

Decision Handed Down on February 27th, Reversing.

Postell vs. Commonwealth.—Decided February 27, 1917. Appeal from Christian Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge Thomas, reversing.

First—Homicide—Dying Declarations.—Where deceased received a fatal blow on the head and was rendered unconscious and remained so for three or four days, when he was operated upon and a portion of the skull removed and infectious matter removed from the brain restoring him temporarily to consciousness, during which he made a statement that he did not believe the doctors and nurses would pull him through, or that he would get well, and he died within about twenty hours thereafter, statements which he made under circumstances as to how the accident happened and identifying the perpetrator of the crime are admissible as dying declarations.

Second—Criminal Law—Dying Declarations.—It is error for the court to state to the jury upon the admission of the dying declaration what the witness had stated shall be taken by the jury and weighed by it as though it had been testified to by deceased in person before the jury, as this relieves the jury of passing upon the credibility of the witness testifying to the dying declaration.

W. O. Soyars, L. K. Wood for appellant; M. M. Logan, Attorney General, and Charles H. Morris, Assistant Attorney General for appellee.

Five judges presided in this case. Judge Hanbery appointed attorneys and set the case for trial. Judge Henderson granted a continuance.

WE HAVE A FEW COMPLETE SILOS

Which were carried over from last year. These we will sell AS LONG AS THEY LAST at very close prices. REMEMBER: Material of every description is advancing daily and you will save from ten to twenty per cent by buying that SILO now. What ever you do, don't place your order for a Silo without first talking the matter over with us.

DON'T BUY A SILO ON "Take It for Granted Basis"

No other farm equipment serves as useful a purpose as the silo; yet no other equipment is so much bought on the "Take It for Granted" basis. It naturally results in inferior silo equipment being foisted upon the farmer, for which he pays exorbitant prices. Here is the way you can know—not take it for granted—you are getting the best in silo construction, and are paying for no more than you receive. Get posted on the

TECKTONIUS SILO The World's Best Silo Construction

You'll then know for yourself what to expect and demand in the silo you buy, to insure the highest class construction—the most perfect service.

Tecktonius is in one Grand Class by Itself in all Tank and Silo Equipment Service. No others are comparable to it.

Without reflecting on your silo knowledge, we affirm, Mr. Farmer, that you cannot know—do not know—what a silo construction should be—can be and really is in the Tecktonius—until you know about and see the "Harder Patent Continuous Door Design"—the Tecktonius Self-Adjusting Silo Hoop and Door Fasteners, Silo "Hinge" Door and "Double Check" Anchor System—the really vital factors in all silos.

The Tecktonius Silo is assembled entirely on our yards and sold only by us in this territory. It is equipped complete with the Tecktonius Matchless Fixtures, giving you a silo that cannot be matched in any feature of its construction or service. We also can save you big money on its cost, for we do away with the dozen and one silo profits and extra freight charges you pay the silo manufacturer for inferior silos.

You would not think of buying a "Take Off" Reaper after seeing the modern binder, would you?

Nether would you think of buying one of these "19th Century" silos after knowing about the "20th Century Tecktonius."

Don't even think of buying a silo until you get posted on the Tecktonius. It will put you "wise" to the shortcomings of the others. Send for telling you all about the "Tecktonius" and giving you valuable and instructive information on silos and silage, including a lot of things you should and want to know.

"Broadside" and Book on "Silo Facts"—Both Free—

Yes, "Gots-It" is the corn discovery of the age. More "Gots-It" is sold by many times than any other corn remedy in existence. Try it and you'll know the reason why. It takes two seconds to apply it, and it dries at once. That's all. Don't experiment—follow the experience of millions and use "Gots-It."

FORCED TO CALL A HALT

Swiss Postal Authorities Found Themselves Swamped by Correspondence of Prisoners of War.

The Berner Bund of November 27 announces that the Swiss postal authorities have fixed the number of letters or packages that may be sent abroad free at ten a month for each prisoner, and that no picture postcards will be sent without the regular postage being paid. No restriction is placed upon the number of letters and cards that the prisoners may receive from abroad, or may exchange among themselves within the borders of the republic.

In explaining the reasons for this limitation, the Swiss newspapers point out that as a result of the Swiss government's liberality in handling mail free, letter writing and the sending of picture postcards had become almost a mania among the interned men, and that some of them had sent out as many as 15 or 20 letters and 50 postcards in a single day.

The official report of the Swiss post office shows that during the month of October the average number of letters and cards forwarded by Switzerland for prisoners in the various belligerent countries was 327,591, while the daily average for packages was 73,632, and for money orders 8,390. Since the beginning of the war the Swiss post office has forwarded 181,778,440 letters and cards to prisoners of war, as well as 37,270,795 packages and 5,532,617 money orders, to the value of $15,397,550. By fast freight and the mails Switzerland has forwarded 3,199,031 shipments of food supplies to French, British and Russian prisoners held in Germany, with a total weight of 6,133 tons.

BABYLON HAD LIQUOR LAWS.

"Saloonkeepers seem to have been under restriction in the days of Hammurabi, king of Babylon, as in ours. "If the wine seller overcharged her customer, or sold the drink in too small a measure," the law set out that she should be called to account, "and they shall throw her into the water." According to the reading of the statute, the English and continental custom of having barmaids instead of barmen seems to have prevailed. The wine seller was also held liable if outlaws collected in her house, and she did not arrest them and bring them to the palace. While the business of wine selling was recognized, it was evidently regarded as unsuitable for some classes. The law said, "If a priestess who is not living in a mal gea (convent) open a wine shop, or enter a wine shop for a drink, they shall burn that woman."—Case and Comment.

She was examined by many physicians, some of whom gave her up to die. Finally she began to take Cardui, and since then has greatly improved in health. The tonic, strengthening, and restorative effects of Cardui, the woman's tonic, on the womanly constitution are the most valuable qualities of this popular medicine. Cardui acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Half a century of success proves that Cardui will do all that is claimed for it. Try it for your trouble."—Advertisement.

How "Rubbers" Were Produced.

"Rubbers," as Americans have named them, were the invention of Charles Goodyear, father of the man who helped produce the Goodyear well machine. In 1833 it was found that India rubber, dissolved in turpentine and mixed with lampblack, would give a waterproof surface to leather. But the leather so treated was subject to atmospheric changes, heat causing it to melt and cold to crack. Mr. Goodyear mixed sulphur with the other combination and produced rubber.

KEEPING BULL IN CONDITION

As General Rule Animals Are Altogether Too Thin in Flesh to Do Justice to Themselves.

Many a breeder of improved stock has fallen just a little short in success through a wrong notion of what constitutes breeding condition. When we visit a breeder for the purpose of buying a young bull, and he remarks on the way to the barn: "I don't pamper my young cattle; I keep them in just good breeding condition," we find as a rule that his bulls are altogether too thin in flesh to do justice to themselves or to him.

He is a rare man who can form an accurate judgment of a young bull when he is thin. The average buyer wants to see young stuff in good, smooth flesh. This does not mean over-fat; but there are very few young bulls which have been injured by carrying too much flesh during the first year of their life. It takes feed, and plenty of it, to present a young bull in attractive sale condition; but it pays even in these days of high-priced feed; and the sensible buyer will demand it, first, because it indicates that the bull is a good feeder, and, second, because it gives him a fair opportunity to judge of its quality. Improved stock is fetching good prices, and those who are preparing young stuff for sale can well afford to feed liberally. In fact, they can much better afford to do this than not. It is all well enough to carry through the breeding cows in just good, strong breeding condition, but with young stuff a liberal hand has its reward.—Wallace's Farmer.

WARMING WATER FOR CATTLE

Tank May Be Built With Board Sides and Galvanized Iron Bottom on a Brick Foundation.

Have you noticed that your stock drink less water when it is too cold? Yet plenty of water is necessary for their well-being. Water can be kept at a sufficiently high temperature for cattle at very little expense in a properly-constructed tank.

The tank may be built with board sides and galvanized iron bottom so that it can be placed on a brick foundation and a small fire built under it. The stovepipe should come through the foundation close to the bottom of the tank and ought to give plenty of clearance to the board side.

Warm Water Tank.

REMEDY THAT ALWAYS CURES

Very Best Treatment for Pig-Eating Sow Is to Fatten Her Up and Sell Her for Pork.

Experts in hog psychology have offered many recipes for curing the pig-eating sow. They vary all the way from a liberal ration of salt pork to a liberal application of a club.

The very best treatment for such a sow, says our old friend, experience, is to feed liberally on corn, run a sharp knife into her throat at a point well known to all her best friends, dash the carcass into scalding hot water, clean outside and in, trim, salt and smoke, and serve with eggs right off the nest and skillet. It is a sure and happy cure.

TREATMENT FOR CHILLED PIG

Young Animals May Be Quickly Revived by Immersing in Water of About Blood Heat.

Pigs that have been chilled may be quickly revived by immersing them to the mouth in warm water (not hot, but about blood heat). This is much to be preferred to warming them by a fire because the heat is applied so much more uniformly and quickly. The supposition that such pigs never amount to anything is altogether incorrect, for they generally will live and thrive. Failure to get results has usually been due to the pig's having been actually frozen or to the use of water that was too hot.

LOSSES IN SPRING LITTERS

Much Can Be Avoided by Having Sow Farrow in April—Time of Mating Will Regulate This.

Heavy loss in spring litters can be avoided by not having the sows farrow too early. If you have not first-class facilities to take care of March litters, then hold the mating until December 6, which will bring farrowing April 1. The period of gestation in sows is 110 days.

His Thanks.

A farmland saved a train from being wrecked and at a splendid banquet was presented by the railway company with a gold watch in a red morocco case. The company's chairman, at the end of an eloquent speech, handed the watch to the heroic farmer and waited expectantly to hear the farmer's grateful thanks. The farmer opened the morocco case, took the watch from its rich satin bed, turned it over and over, and then looked up and asked, "And where's the chain?"

WOMEN TO HELP

By Doing Civilian Duty On Battle Fronts To Release Men.

London, March 14.—More than 30,000 English women have volunteered to form an auxiliary army corps for service in France.

The first aim is to secure women with skilled hands. They are wanted not merely in France, but in Britain also. The chief demand is for women mechanics, automobile drivers, cooks, stenographers, waitresses, packers and telephone operators, milkers, shepherdesses, hay makers, horse keepers, cow keepers, market gardeners and harvesters.

All the women enrolled are to be asked to hold themselves ready for service both in France and England. Those going to France receive a short preliminary training in England, including elementary instruction in hygiene and discipline. Unskilled workers are taught the rudiments of a trade sufficient to enable them to serve with the skilled labor.

The pay varies according to the duties, the minimum being $5 weekly, with 14 cents an hour for overtime, which is rather below the current rates. Twenty dollars is given each woman to provide a uniform, consisting of a khaki tunic and trousers, high boots and sombrero hats. A grant of $25 is made at the end of the second year.

If the pay is low, it is scarcely likely to deter enrollment, for practically every applicant expresses a keen desire to be allowed to assist the army in France. Many state they are proud to be asked to help their men folk near the field of battle. Although they are not likely to get nearer than forty miles from the firing line, the sentimental consideration is creating wonderful enthusiasm among the volunteers.

BACK AT HOME.

Fourteen companies of the Third Kentucky Regiment were mustered out of the service Monday and paid off by Capt. Baskette, of the regular army Quartermaster's department. Col. Jouett Henry, Lt. Col. E. B. Bassett and Lt. Lawson Flack returned home yesterday. Capt. Ben S. Winfree was detained a day or two longer. Capt. E. W. Clark, of Co. L., also came in home without going to Murray.

Introduced Graham Bread.

The inventor of Graham bread and flour was Rev. Sylvester Graham, a New England clergyman, who died in Northampton, Mass., sixty-five years ago, having devoted the major part of his life to the advocacy of a vegetarian dietetic theory.—New York World.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

CASUALTIES EX- CEED 10,000,000

More Than 400,000 of These Victims of the Great War
Are Civilians.

Washington, Mar. 14.—More than 10,000,000 men are recorded as killed, wounded, captured or missing in the European war in the first complete tabulation of official and authenticated semi-official reports of the various belligerents received here.

Among the military power, 4,441,200 are reported dead; 2,529,500 wounded and 2,564,500 captured and missing. Among civilians, especially on the Russian and Balkan fronts and in Armenia, another 40,000 are figured as either dead or wounded through the war.

The figures are admittedly only approximate and in some instances necessarily several weeks old. They are not called exact in any sense but are known to be so nearly so as to give a fairly reliable picture of the war's results. They depend for their accuracy first, on the official reports of the various belligerents, which are certainly minimum figures, and then on a careful rechecking with all available authentic information.

The entente's losses are given as 6,318,400 as against 3,384,800 for the central empires. One reason for the great discrepancy between the two is believed to be relative unpreparedness of the entente, the disastrous retreats in France at the beginning of the war, in Russia from the Carpathians and in Rumania.

The entente's dead the total 2,890,400 against 1,550,800 for the central empires; the entente wounded total 1,676,500 against 922,000 for their enemies; and their captured and missing 1,652,500 against 912,000 for the central empires. These losses are based upon the assumption that in Germany ninety per cent. of the total wounded are from the Franco-Belgian front.

"Horns of Venus."

References are made in some classical literature to the "horns of Venus," from which it is concluded by some that in the clear air of Mesopotamia the crescent form of the planet was detected in early times without optical aid. Since Venus, when at a sufficient angular distance from the sun, is hardly more than half a minute of arc in diameter at the utmost, such an observation seems quite out of the question, and Professor Campbell thinks the allusion to the horns was merely a lucky guess or the part of the ancient astronomers.

Saloniki's Old Churches.

The finest remains of the ancient city of Saloniki are its churches. How they ever survived the tempests of the Middle Ages is a miracle. Nevertheless they did, 22 of them. And they stand today, turned back into churches after their 500 years of use as mosques, illustrating the story of Byzantine ecclesiastical architecture even more beautifully, in certain ways, than those of Constantinople. Moreover, they make up among them a museum of the lost Byzantine art of mosaic, unrivaled save in Constantinople and Ravenna.
